1. Introduction

1.1 Objective

This document outlines the basic requirements interested countries belonging to the European Rotaract Information Centre (E.R.I.C.) should fulfil to become the organiser of a Rotaract European Meeting (R.E.M.) or an European Convention (EuCo).

It also presents the key organisational processes to stage a successful event.

Some tips and recommendations are shown in the Annex.

1.2 Applicable documents

AD-1 Guidelines and Internal Bylaws of European Rotaract Information Center - San Marino 2010

AD-2 E.R.I.C. Country Reps Minutes of Meetings from EuCo Sofia

AD-3 E.R.I.C. Country Reps Minutes of Meetings from REM Amsterdam

AD-4 E.R.I.C. Country Reps Minutes of Meetings from REM Belgrade

AD-5 E.R.I.C. Country Reps Minutes of Meetings from EuCo Dortmund

AD-6 E.R.I.C. Country Reps Minutes of Meetings from REM Wroclaw

2. Description of the process

2.1 Call for Candidates

The E.R.I.C. Board, will perform a Call for Candidates at least one month prior to the election of an host city for REM or EUACO. This call will go via e-mail to all the Country Representatives, attaching the relevant information and deadlines.

Within the deadline set by E.R.I.C. Board, each country belonging to E.R.I.C. is entitled to submit a candidature to organise the event.

Candidature will be sent to the Country Representative in agreement with the Host Organising Committee (HOC) and shall abide by all pre-requisites described in this manual.

For further details see Annex A1.

Any deviation has to be agreed with the E.R.I.C. President.

2.2 Election

The E.R.I.C. Committee of Representatives has the exclusive right and authority to vote on a venue for the two REMs and the EUACO.

Proxies for the votes will be held as stated in the bylaws.

Votation will normally be in public. But if the Country Representatives can decide to vote in secret as well.

If more than one candidate is running, the candidate with the most votes will win.

If there is a draw, then the election for the event is postponed to the next meeting. There will be a new call for candidates. Candidates who already presented can present their candidacy again.

If there are more than two candidates, and none of the options reach their 50%+1 threshold, a second round of voting with only the top two candidates from the first round will take place. If in that case, both options receive exactly 50% of the votes, which is highly unlikely to happen, the E.R.I.C. President gets to pick one.

2.3 After the Election

2.3.1 General Duties

Of the Host Organising Committee (HOC)

The Host Organising Committee must do everything in its power to meet all requirements and obligations stated in this document.

The HOC should provide updates of the current status in the following meetings of the the E.R.I.C. Committee of Representatives.

Of the E.R.I.C.

The E.R.I.C. must do all in its power to see that an event organised under its auspices will be successfully carried out and that E.R.I.C. is represented by competent people, maintaining absolute impartiality.

The E.R.I.C. is obliged to assist the Host Organising Committee by all means at its disposal. Nevertheless, E.R.I.C. may request the HOC the reimbursement of expenses caused by its action.

2.3.2 Communication within the parts

The Host Organising Committee and the E.R.I.C. shall strive for the most efficient communication, as it is essential for the success of the organisation of the event.

The E.R.I.C. Committee of Representatives will vote on the venue of the future E.R.I.C. Meeting and appoint an organisation committee composed of one or more clubs and represented by a president that will be the single point of contact for E.R.I.C..

It is recommended that the HOC has a (former) Country Representative among its members.

The Organising Committee will ensure that:

The list of contact details of all its members and a fax number is provided to the E.R.I.C. Board and that any change in this list is communicated to the E.R.I.C. as soon as it takes place.

Any requests and/or questions from the E.R.I.C. to the HOC must be replied within 3 working days.

The E.R.I.C. will ensure that:

E.R.I.C. Board Officers are available for the relevant support in the preparation and organisation of the event.

Requests and/or questions from the HOC will be replied within 3 working days;

One member of the HOC is copied on all important E.R.I.C. communications.

E.R.I.C. explicitly declines any responsibility and reimbursement claims regarding the entire events.

All profit and loss are to the charge of the organization committee.

Rooms should typically accommodate 2 rotaractors though it is feasible to provide rooms for up to 3 or 4 rotaractors.

Accommodation on single room should be feasible.

It is highly recommended to provide free-of-charge usage of the hotel's services (wifi, pool, sauna, gym, etc) for the participants.

It is highly recommended to have a leisure room for free at the hotel, where the team members may have Internet access or play games.

For delegates that would not like to stay in the hotel/hostel included in the standard package, the HOC must offer an alternative package without accommodation. A list of other higher standard hotels must be provided upon request.

Board members, Country Representatives and their partners can pay the participation fee on site. Both in the local currency as in Euro.

5.3 Annex 3: Tips and Advices on Accommodation from PreConvention 2006

Time Line: We started very early to discuss, what kind of accommodation we wished to offer the pre-convention participants. Because most hotels did not wish to make large reservations with us too early, and because it obviously was not possible to assess the number of participants wishing us to provide them with accommodation before the pre-convention was relatively close, the actual negotiation with and booking of a hotel was not possible until the early spring 2006.

Good advice:

Accommodation is a one woman job! Planning and negotiating the accommodation is an assignment which can be done by one person, and because a lot of the job has to do with dealing with the hotel- and guest information, a lot of trouble can be avoided by letting one person be in charge.

It is always a hit to have as many participants as possible staying the same place! Experience from many conferences has told me and several of my Rotaract acquaintances, how important it is, that as many as possible live the same place during the conference, since this allows interaction at all times of the day, and ensures that everybody has the same transport time. Good ideas for making people choose your accommodation alternative:

- Make it cheap! We are young; the price is more important than luxury.
- Make it a good deal for the Rotaractors of the hosting city (which are always over-represented) to stay at the hotel instead of staying at home; for instance make sure that the hotel is situated fantastically close to the locations of the evening/social activities.
- Offer your accommodation package on line together with the social activities, so it becomes the natural choice of all pre-convention participants.
- Obviously; Book rooms at a hotel with capacity for all the participants, instead of several smaller ones! This also saves some work both for you and the logistics department..

Remember to consider the possibility of disabled participants! Check if the hotel, you are booking with is easily accessible for people in wheel chairs etc. You save yourself a lot of trouble and, well, disabled should be able to participate in all Rotaract activities!!

Make a flexible deal with the hotel!!! First of all we experienced to have a lot fewer participants, than we expected, which resulted in great changes in our bookings.

Further on, we had many requests from people wanting us to provide them with accommodation in last minute. We made a deal with the hostel/hotel we used, that allowed us to book a lot of rooms, but still made it possible to cancel all of them May 1st, - that is less than one and a half month before the conference! After that we could cancel progressively fewer rooms without them charging us. It was a very useful deal!

Calculate with late coming bookings from rotaractors! If you have the financial capacity, it might be a good idea to actually book an extra number of rooms. We did PreConvention 2006 in Copenhagen-Malmö HOC Whitebook not have this possibility, so we solved the problem by making some separate last minute bookings where the late coming rotaractors payed directly to the hotel, and not through us. This was a bit troublesome for the rotaractors, especially if you put several "single"/friendless late coming rotaractors into one hotel room, so you might consider to still be the ones paying the hotel, and just charging the participants.

Remember that some people stay for the convention. We did not offer accommodation for the convention, since we were offering home stay during the convention days. Unfortunately, too many people were interested in home stay for us to accommodate their wishes, so some people needed somewhere to stay for the Rotary convention days. A good idea is of course to make a deal with the hotel, you are using for the pre-convention participants and then offer the participants to have either preconvention accommodation or preconvention and convention accommodation. We also had quite many preconvention participants who did not stay along for the convention, so make two packages!! Ask people about wishes for roommates! I did actually send out a mail to all the registered participants asking for their wishes for potential roommates, but still I saw a lot of sour faces at the reception area, when people discovered that I did not automatically put them together with their fellow club members if they had not answered my mail. So be explicit! – or just decide, that people are at the conference to interact with new people ;)

The deal we got was 3 night accommodation incl. Linen for 100 dollars. Bedrooms ranged from 2-6 people, several bathrooms in the hallway. The hotel was very centrally placed and had a view of the beautiful Copenhagen harbour front.

5.4 Annex 4: Tips and Advices on Payments by Søren Falkenberg

Payment solution 1: Credit cards

1. Set up a webpage where the concept of the payment method is clearly evident. The webpage MUST be owned by the person who applies for the Acquiring agreement.
2. Write a document with the rules of the Preconvention Committee. The most important aspect is that it states who is economical responsible. This document is needed in step 3 and step 7.
3. Set up a business account with net banking.
4. Obtain some credit cards. Several written authority forms are required. Remember to activate the credit cards shortly after you receive it. Otherwise you need to do it all over and it takes over a week!
5. Get a digital signature. This is a big advantage when you fill out electronically forms online at governmental agencies.
6. Apply for a business license number. (In Denmark you need to fill out forms both at the IRS and the Danish Agency of trade and corporation). Remember to be registered as a charity organization so you don't have to pay taxes!
7. Apply for a "Acquiring agreement" at PBS online at their web page. You need to explain the product you are selling, marketing, expected turnover etc. You need to state a cancellation policy on your web site and refer to different trade laws that you are not obliged to give a 14 day cooling-off period etc. Several different cash settlement are possible with the PBS. The normal agreement is to get the entire amount after 28 banking days (1½ month) transferred to your account. Please note that PBS can require a money guarantee from you for a huge amount of money depending on the expected turnover if they are uncertain whether you are economically viable!
8. Find a company who can offer a web based SSL-secure payment software. The webmaster can implement the solution himself fairly easily.

Remarks:

We let our national participants pay with bank transfers so they could save the PBS fee of 5.75 %.

Costs of payment solution:

PBS Acquiring (1 year): 385 USD

Web domain and hotel (6 months): 210 USD

Payment software (6 month): 190 USD

Business license: 20 USD

Bank account + net banking + 3 credit cards (1 year): 265USD

Sum: 1070 USD

Furthermore, the bank fees are much higher for a business account than a regular account. We had expenses for more than 100 USD!

Evaluation of payment solution 1:

Pros: Credit cards are by far the easiest, quickest and safest way to pay money. Payments are automatically registered on your website.

Cons: The solution is extremely cumbersome and requires a lot of work and processing time (expect at least 3 months!). It is relatively expensive. Big ecumenical risk: You risk getting liquidity problems during the conference if people pay late! People can claim their money back if they feel that they didn't get the "goods" that they paid for. Every claim cost app. 45 USD even if it is unjustified!

Payment solution 2: Bank transfer

1. Open a regular bank account with net banking and some credit cards (this is free in Denmark!).

2. Set up a website where the participants can register via. E-mail address and is automatically assigned an ID-No. They chose what they want to buy on the payment site, e.g.:

Accommodation

Social package

Workshops

Bank fee (use 6% of the gross amount to be safe)

SUM

The amount shall be paid to:

Account holder: [Name, Address, City, Country]

Location of the bank [City]

IBAN

BIC

When transferring the money:

- Remember to provide the following information: NAME and ID-No.

- Chose: "All expenses paid by the receiver" since the amount is already included in the price.

Evaluation of payment solution 2:

Pros: Up and running in no time, cheap and simple. You are not subject to any rules, i.e. no economical risk. If you provide the banking detail stated above, 99.9 % of all transfers will be successfully executed in western countries in no more than five days.

Cons: Sometimes people find it difficult to make foreign bank transfers, especially in 3rd world countries. The safety of the payment is smaller than credit card! It is a manual task to register that people have paid.

Conclusion on payment methods:

Solution 1 is easiest for the participants. Solution 2 is easiest for the Planning Committee. The choice is yours!

Best practice for the Financial manager:

The main advice is: Keep it simple! Here's how to:

_ Keep a detailed log of every payment that you make and every payment you receive. (Date and amount)

_ In general: Try to minimize the amount of cash you need to withdraw from the bank. Pay with credit card, make bank transfers or write checks as much as possible. This minimizes the risk of "lost" money.

_ Hand out credit cards to the people with the most expenses.

_ When paying back expenses to people: Deal only with the chairman of the different sub planning groups. Let him deal with the different amounts among the participants.

_ When making the budget divide the different items out on the planning groups (e.g. workshops, social activities, accommodation).

_ Keep the same items in the final account that you did in the budget. Then it is easier to evaluate the final result. Please note that it is a VERY tedious job to analyze receipts from different people. Delegate this work out to the chairmen of the planning groups as much as possible.

_ Import the statement of account directly into a spread sheet via net banking. This minimizes the risk of "human" errors when balancing up the account.

_ If a participant shows up and his payment is not yet registered, let him pay cash and reimburse him later. Tough but fair!
